

Sclerology is the study of the white of the eye. It pertains particularly to the health of the circulatory system. Some signs in the sclera show pressure and congestion in particular areas of the body, and when correct therapy is applied some markings will fade and even disappear during correct treatment. Reading the sclera signs compliments an iridology analysis.

*Photo taken by Grand Medicine

For more information please give Fay Lebsanft a call on (07) 4697 9242
Hibiscus Health Haven – a unique health retreat designed with your special needs in mind www.HibiscusHealthHaven.com.au